

Scott Haldeman DC, MD, PhD, FRCP(C), FCCS(C), FAAN holds the positions of clinical professor in the Department of Neurology, University of California, Irvine, and Adjunct Professor, Southern California University of Health Sciences. He is Past President of the North American Spine Society, the American Back Society and the North American Academy of Manipulative Medicine. He was appointed International Ambassador for the Decade of the Bone and Joint. He is the founder and currently serves as President of World Spine Care, a non-profit organization and founding member of the WHO World Rehabilitation Alliance. He has been on the editorial boards of eight professional and scientific journals. He has published over 258 articles or book chapters and has authored or edited 8 textbooks. He is certified by the American Board of Neurology and Psychiatry, is a Fellow of the Royal College of Physicians of Canada and a Fellow of the American Academy of Neurology. He presided over The Bone and Joint Decade 2000 to 2010 Task Force on Neck Pain and Its Associated Disorders. He is Chairman Emeritus of the Research Council of the World Federation of Chiropractic. He is the recipient of the David Selby Award by the North American Spine Society, an honorary Doctor of Humanities degree from SCUHS, the Bone and Joint Decade Global Alliance Distinguished Service Award, the Sheikh Zayed International Award, the Dr. Lou Sportelli Lifetime Leadership Award, the ACA Humanitarian of the Year Award and the ACC Lifetime Leadership and Vision award.