

Professor Christopher Yelverton is an Associate Professor in the Department of Chiropractic, Faculty of Health Sciences at the University of Johannesburg. He holds a Master of Technology in Chiropractic, a Postgraduate Diploma in Business and Finance for Medical Professionals, and a PhD from the University of Witwatersrand. Prof. Yelverton is also a Fellow of the Royal College of Chiropractors and earned an International Chiropractic Sport Science Diploma. In 2022, he was awarded Honorary Life Membership by the Chiropractic Association of South Africa.

Prof. Yelverton's academic and professional career spans over two decades. He has served as Acting Head and later Head of the Chiropractic Department at the University of Johannesburg (2005–2022) and currently holds the position of Vice Dean for Research and Global Engagement. Nationally, he has chaired the Gauteng Branch of the Chiropractic Association of South Africa and served on the Allied Health Professions Council of South Africa. Internationally, he is President of the European Council on Chiropractic Education and actively contributes to the World Federation of Chiropractic and the Chiropractic Educators Research Forum.

A prolific researcher and sought-after speaker, Prof. Yelverton has published extensively in high-impact journals on chiropractic practice and education. He serves on editorial boards and as a reviewer for scientific journals. His contributions to the field have earned him numerous accolades, including the Chiropractic Association of South Africa's Presidential Award. Prof. Yelverton is committed to advancing chiropractic education, research, and global engagement.