

A/Prof de Luca was awarded her PhD in 2016. She has more than 70 peer-reviewed publications, where her research interests lie in the epidemiology and management of musculoskeletal conditions, particularly in the elderly. Katie has >$5.5 million in research funding, including the industry-funded Back Complaints in the Elderly: Chiropractic – Australia study. Her contribution to research includes the 2021 Global Burden of Disease low back pain, and musculoskeletal estimates, published in Lancet Rheumatology. She is the current Chair of the World Federation of Chiropractic's Disability and Rehabilitation Committee and represents the WFC on WHO World Rehabilitation Alliance, research workstream.