DR NEERASHA RAMSAMY

CHIROPRACTOR

Neerasha Ramsamy is the founder of Thrive Family Wellness, which is based in South Africa. She serves as part of the Executive Council and is the Pregnancy and Pediatric Ambassador of the African Chiropractic Federation. She also serves on a committee for the World Federation of Chiropractic regarding official relations with the World Health Organization.

Ramsamy has a special place in her heart for all patients, especially young babies and children. She has integrated an evidence-based holistic approach to treatment when working with patients of all ages. She loves teaching and aims to grow knowledge and services around chiropractic in all regions of Africa, especially within the public sector, making chiropractic care accessible to everyone, no matter what their socioeconomic status may be.
