

Thomas Sønderkær Meyer Chiropractor - cand. manu.

Thomas graduated from the University of Southern Denmark in 2004.

For more than 20 years, he has had a special interest in extremity treatment and has developed several effective foot treatment techniques.

Thomas is an active runner - several years on an elite level and has worked with many elite athletes.

He is an active teacher in both the national training programme for interns as well as the Post Graduate Educational Programme at the University of Southern Denmark.

In his two clinics north of Copenhagen, he sees extremity patients from all over the country and typically treats at least 5-10 foot patients a day.
