

Anette Lykke Petri has been Director of the Danish Patient Safety Agency since 2020.

Anette was born in 1968 and graduated as a medical doctor from the University of Copenhagen. Between 1999 and 2007, she was employed in the Danish healthcare system primarily within the surgical, gynecological and oncological specialties. She has also worked with quality development in the healthcare sector and defended her PhD thesis at the University of Copenhagen in 2009.

In 2011, Anette became a community medicine specialist. She was employed as a medical officer from 2011 to 2015. In 2015, she became a Head of Division and Chief Physician at the Danish Patient Safety Agency and periodically, she has been acting as the Chief Medical Officer of the Faroe Islands.

Anette completed a Master of Public Governance (MPG) at Copenhagen Business School in 2018.

She has been a member of the epidemic commissions in the Capital Region and Region Zealand since 2012. Since 2021, she has been a member of the National Epidemic Commission. In addition, she has served on several boards, including the board of the European Supervisory Association EPSO.