

Graduated from the University of Southern Denmark (SDU) in 2004 and has since worked with various aspects of communication. This includes clinical work with and around patients, as an external lecturer at SDU, as an instructor in postgraduate continuing education, and in the role of practice consultant in the Region of Southern Denmark.